WHAT IS YOUTH COURT?

The Huntington Youth Court Program is run for youth by youth. Youth offenders under 16, who have committed their first misdemeanor crime, are given the opportunity to have their case heard by a jury of their peers. Volunteer youth perform the roles of prosecuting and defending attorney, judge, bailiff, and jury.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE?

The goal of youth court is to prevent delinquent behavior through positive peer influence, strengthen self-esteem, instill motivation for self improvement, and enhance a sense of community involvement among youth. A positive educational experience is provided for both the offender and the youth court volunteers. Youth gain experience with the legal process, become familiar with the court system and learn about various career opportunities within the court system. Offenders also learn about career opportunities through the community service they perform. Counseling and parent education are also available through the youth court.

TYPES OF CASES

The cases are referred by the Suffolk County Department of Probation to the Youth Court Director, who accepts cases meeting the criteria. Typical cases include: shoplifting, criminal mischief, vandalism and other misdemeanor offenses. Offenders have been arrested or charged with the offense and admit guilt to the crime. The youthful offender, with a parent or guardian, then meets with the Case Manager for an initial intake, in which the rules and guidelines of the program are explained.

WHAT DOES THE JURY DECIDE?

The jury may impose a sentence that includes community service, written or verbal apology to the victim and/or parents, written essays pertaining to the crime, counseling sessions, or a jail tour. Offenders must also participate in a mandatory peer discussion group and mandatory jury duty for another case.

The Huntington Youth Court practices Restorative Justice principles when handing down a sentence. Restorative Justice is an approach that (1) holds the offender accountable for their offense, (2) includes the community in response to the offense, (3) develops the skills and competencies of the offender so they will lead a law abiding life and become productive members of society.

Membership requires any student age 14-18 years old to be willing to make a voluntary commitment for at least one year.
